

2007 Europa Super Show Under 210 Class

Contributed by Dave Palumbo
Friday, 10 August 2007

Silvio Samuel sucked 7lbs and squeezed his super freaky physique under the 210lb mark for the first time in 2 years en route to winning the 1st Europa Super Show Under 210 Class and $3000 in prize money.

{modulebot2 module=kemistry-sponsor}

Silvio Samuel sucked 7lbs and squeezed his super freaky physique under the 210lb mark for the first time in 2 years en route to winning the 1st Europa Super Show Under 210 Class and $3000 in prize money. Silvio displayed his usual grainy hard conditioning and symmetrical physique while improving on his leg separation and stage presence. It should be interesting to see how Silvio fares against tomorrow's open IFBB Europa Super Show men's lineup. If Big Will Harris and 6'4" Quincy Taylor miss their mark, Silvio could very easily slip into that first place position and fly home with a complete sweep for the weekend.

Coming in 2nd was Richard "Tricky" Jackson who wowed the audience with an incredible display of ripped, striated, muscle as well as posing performance that brought the house down.

3rd Place went to Guy Ducasse who, after a 12-year layoff, looked better than he ever has before. Like a fine bottle of wine, this guy only got better with age. If he continues to compete, look for Ducasse to do some serious damage in 2008.

Ex-pro football player Nathan Wonsley confirmed the idea that it's possible to excel at more than one sport in a single lifetime. Finishing 4th, Wonsley was shredded from head to toe and he easily could have traded places with the 2nd and 3rd place finisher.

5th place went to Pablo Arevalo whose thick, muscular, physique might have even bested the great Silvio Samuel had he only been a tad more conditioned. This is a guy to watch. This guy has the potential to crack the top-5 at open IFBB Pro shows when and if he learns how to properly peak his physique.

FULL PHOTO GALLERY